Subject: Wednesday night!!!!

Hi Duncan and Steve,

I'm so excited about our going out on Wednesday night. The Spider-Man film starts at 8pm so make sure you're at the snack bar at 6pm. The walk from the snack bar to the cinema takes about ten minutes. So we will have an hour and twenty minutes to eat our pizzas, then we will have half an hour left to buy the tickets at the cinema. The film lasts two hours including a break. So you can tell your parents that you'll be back home around half past ten. See you both on Wednesday!

A new website for fans of food and T-shirts

If you love food and you love T-shirts, you're going to love my new website. People that know me, know that I love T-shirts just as much as I love food. I wouldn't describe myself as a food expert, I just like eating healthy food, though sometimes I eat something unhealthy like a burger. When I eat a burger, I try to eat the best tasting burger there is. I am like this with T-shirts too. I always want the best no matter what it costs. If the T-shirt has a nice picture or a funny text about food on it, I'll buy it.

I now have so many T-shirts that I also sell the T-shirts that I don't really like anymore. That way I can make room in my wardrobe for new ones. The T-shirts are not really expensive. The cheapest T-shirt that I sell is a simple one with a picture of a burger on it. It costs ten pounds and fifty pence. The most expensive ones are the ones with a lot of text on them and pictures of different food items. These are thirteen pounds. I also have a nice bag in the shape of a hamburger. My friend gave it to me, but she didn't know I already had it. So I'm selling one of them. This bag costs twelve pounds.

Now a word about my list of T-shirts. I've finally managed to put together a list of the hundreds of great food T-shirts out there for food lovers like me. Hopefully you'll find something in this list you like. If you do, let me know. Perhaps it is one of the T-shirts I have for sale!

If you want to keep yourself up to date you can sign up to my website. Simply send me an email and you will get a message whenever there are new T-shirts on the site.

Funny T-shirt texts

- Please do not eat this T-shirt
- Life is short: eat dessert first
- Keep calm and eat cupcakes
- Don't eat nuts. You are what you eat.
