

The dog who showed up on an airport X-ray machine

Gizmo: He was carried in hand luggage ray machine. On the screen, crammed into a small piece of hand luggage, they clearly saw the outlines of a dog!

- 2 The dog – who is the size of a big cat – was being smuggled out of Britain in a bag by Michael Wick from Germany. He had brought the animal, which he called Gizmo, into Britain when he came back from Tenerife.
- 3 Mr Wick was imprisoned for a day and ordered to pay £45. He had to appear before the court in Crawley charged with illegally importing a dog.
- 4 Gizmo who looked unharmed by his cramped journey, is being cared for at the British Airways animal holding centre at Gatwick. The officials are now trying to find a new home for him.

1 THE AIRPORT security officials at London Airport couldn't believe their eyes when they looked at the monitor of their X-

- 6 → Geef van elk van de vijf onderstaande beweringen aan of deze juist of onjuist is, volgens de tekst.
- 1 Meneer Wick wist niet dat zijn hond Gizmo in de tas zat.
 - 2 Meneer Wick had de hond gekocht voor £45 in Tenerife.
 - 3 Meneer Wick moest voor de rechtbank verschijnen.
 - 4 Meneer Wick moest een boete betalen.
 - 5 Er wordt een nieuw baasje voor Gizmo gezocht.