

Welcome!

This Wikiwijs page is meant to help you improve your language skills. This is a fun and innovative way for you to practice.

The theme of this lesson is Climate Change.

It seems that the year 2019 is the year that the world is finally acknowledging that we as the human race are in danger of extinction.

How did we get so far? Is it reversible? Was it preventable? Is it real? These are questions we need to ask ourselves today.

This lesson consists of 5 parts.

Part 1: Vocabulary

You will learn 11 new words about climate change. Memorize these definitions as you will be needing them for the test at the end.

Part 2: Grammar

You will practice with past and present tenses, including past simple, present simple and the present continuous. All the sentences are related to the topic.

Part 3: Writing

For this part you will have to write two coherent arguments for and against climate change. The wordcount for this exercise should be between 100-175 words.

Part 4: Listening

This section is all about your listening skills. You will hear a 5 min fragment about future predictions regarding climate change. You have 5 minutes to answer all the questions.

Part 5: Exam

Here you will put all your newfound knowledge together and test yourself.
